

Terms and conditions for submitting an EOI online

These terms and conditions govern your submission of an Expression of Interest (EOI) and your access to and use of the Questionnaire and related web pages. By submitting an Expression of Interest you agree to be bound by these terms and conditions.

- You must complete all sections of the EOI including the questionnaire. If you do not complete the questionnaire we will be unable to assess your suitability for a position with Central Queensland Hospital and Health Service.
- Personal information you provide in this form will be used by Central Queensland Hospital and Health Service for employment related purposes and / or to determine your suitability for employment within the public health system in Queensland. In addition, we may use your information for statistical purposes; however any information will be de-identified for this purpose. Central Queensland Hospital and Health Service reserves the right to use and disclose the information provided by you in your EOI to verify your qualifications and / or standing, including disclosing your information to professional and / or regulatory bodies. We will not disclose your information for any other purpose unless we obtain your consent, or we are required or permitted to do so by law. You can apply for access to your information, contained in this Form, under the Information Privacy Act 2009 (Qld). You can find further information by visiting the Information Privacy Act website.
- While Queensland Health endeavours to ensure that the online transmission of the Form, containing your information, over the internet is secure, the inherent nature of the internet means that there is a potential risk that your information may be viewed or intercepted by third parties. Accordingly, submission through the online EOI platform shall be at your own risk and Central Queensland Hospital and Health Service accepts no responsibility or liability for any unauthorised access to your information contained in the EOI when it is submitted online over the internet. Individuals who submit an EOI online should receive an acknowledgement from Central Queensland Hospital and Health Service that the EOI has been sent, on the screen, following submission. Central Queensland Hospital and Health Service accepts no responsibility or liability if this acknowledgement does not appear or we do not receive your online submission.
- Central Queensland Hospital and Health Service makes no representation at the time the EOI is submitted or any time in the future, that there is a suitable position or any position, available to you, or that you will be considered for a position that becomes available in Queensland Health. In addition, Central Queensland Hospital and Health Service makes no representation that by submitting your EOI you will be notified of any or all appropriate vacancies; offered an interview in relation to a vacant position; or be offered a position with Central Queensland Hospital and Health Service.
- You warrant that the information you submit on this EOI is accurate and complete at the time of submission. You also warrant that you have not submitted the EOI on behalf of any other person.
- You acknowledge that you have read and understood Queensland Health's Privacy Statement and Disclaimer.
