Your opportunity

As the Speech Language Pathologist, you will:

- Apply your professional skills and knowledge in contemporary speech language pathology as well as promote the importance of speech language communication skills as key areas underlying learning for all students.
- Collaborate with education teams within schools to deliver high quality speech language pathology services which address barriers to learning for students with speech language communication difficulties, using a whole of school approach as part of the educational program.

You will report to the base school Principal for operational and administrative matters and to either the Senior Advisor, Speech Language Pathology or the Senior Speech Language Pathologist (Supervisory) on all professional practice and clinical matters.

Your role

Appointments in the public sector are merit-based and will be assessed by looking at what you have done previously—the knowledge, skills and experience you have built, your potential for development, and your personal qualities.

Responsibilities include:

- Support students to achieve their potential using evidence-based contemporary speech language pathology knowledge and frameworks to assist schools to identify and make reasonable adjustments and use inclusive teaching strategies. These adjustments enable students with speech language communication difficulties to access the curriculum and participate in the full range of school life.
- Collaborate, liaise, and negotiate with school leaders, teachers, other service providers, and the supervising speech language pathologist to identify and assess school and student needs, and develop and implement speech language pathology services across schools.

- Participate as an active member in education teams within schools to ensure the delivery of a range of high quality, evidence-based contemporary speech language pathology services to enhance learning outcomes for students with speech language communication difficulties.
- Utilise professional knowledge and skills to deliver professional speech language pathology services in accordance with departmental policies, procedures, professional standards and guidelines.
- Monitor and assess speech language pathology services provided across schools, in consultation with the supervising speech language pathologist, to ensure that they improve student access and participation in education.
- Develop and implement best practice assessment, program planning, intervention and monitoring strategies for students with speech language communication difficulties, in accordance with legislation, departmental policies, procedures and guidelines.
- Provide consultative speech language pathology services and resources to assist school leaders and staff, parents, and other professional peers to develop knowledge and skills to support students with speech language communication difficulties.
- Participate as a member of the school team, in the planning and management of at risk behaviours of students with the aim of preventing the use of restrictive practices.
- Participate in service planning at school level.
- Prepare written reports and maintain records related to the delivery of speech language pathology services as required by the department.
- Participate in quality improvement and research activities enhancing speech language pathology services in schools.
- Actively participate in professional development activities and clinical supervision to improve and ensure high quality services are delivered based on contemporary best practice.
- Maintain eligibility for certified practising membership of Speech Pathology Australia, currency of knowledge and skills relating to the department generally, and the provision of speech language pathology services in education.
- Supervise university speech language pathology students.

Other responsibilities (as required)

- Other suitable duties, consistent with the duties and responsibilities of the position as directed by the supervisor or nominated delegate.

A mandatory requirement of this role is:

- A relevant degree in Speech Pathology from a recognised tertiary institution or qualifications which, in the opinion of the Director-General, Department of Education or delegate are acceptable and eligibility for certified practising membership of Speech Pathology Australia.
- In accordance with the Working with Children \(Risk Management and Screening\) Act 2000, registered health practitioners working within their professional capacity must hold valid registration with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency at all times during their employment for the purpose of satisfying the exemption requirements of the Act.
